Overview

Born of the Johnson County Education Research Triangle, the Exercise Science program at KU Edwards Campus provides students with a thorough understanding of the human body, its functions and prepares students for careers in physical therapy, cardiac rehabilitation, and strength and conditioning. It also serves as a foundation for graduate level work in health sciences, such as nursing, chiropractic, medicine (physician assistant, medical doctor, etc.), physical/occupational therapy or dietetics. The required pre-requisite courses for physical therapy are fulfilled through this major.

MetroKC Tuition Rate

The Edwards Campus offers in-state tuition rates to Missouri residents who qualify. Go to <http://edwardscampus.ku.edu/MetroKC> for more information.

Requirements

Admission is competitive. Criteria includes a minimum cumulative and prerequisite course GPA of 2.75 and 25 completed hours. Students are typically admitted during the spring semester of sophomore year or fall semester of junior year.

Transfer Credit

A maximum of 64 hours from community or junior colleges count within the minimum cumulative 120 credit hours requirement. Only transfer grades of C or higher count toward KU degree requirements. Courses graded credit/no-credit or pass/fail are not accepted. Please visit KU's transfer credit website to ensure your transfer credits will count toward the KU degree. Visit KU CredTran: <http://www.admissions.ku.edu/apply/credits/transfer>.

KU Core

The KU Core is the university-wide curriculum that all undergraduate students will fulfill as part of their degree, in addition to degree-specific and major requirements. Visit KU Core: <http://kucore.ku.edu/> for more information.
